

Introductory remarks

With the help of my team, we are happy to welcome you in our dining room to make you discover a culinary experience that we hope will please you. I have now been nurturing my passion for cooking for 30 years.

Born in France, in the Parisian region, I made my debut in the kitchen in 1991, in an Italian gourmet restaurant. Where I studied for the next two years. I continued my journey and joined the teams of a few Michelin Star restaurants. Once I had settled in Quebec in November 1994, I met Pierre Marcotte and I started to work at the restaurant La Saulaie in Boucherville. I worked there for four incredible years. I've been around as we say. I then worked at the iconic Hélène-de-Champlain, and in a few Italian and French restaurants. Working at the Château Bromont, the Chantecler hotel and the Quintessence in Mont-Tremblant allowed me to make my debut in the hospitality industry. My journey continues as I start working for Mister Paul Desmarais Jr as his private Chef, before going back into action in the kitchen of one of Montreal's private clubs, the Club Saint-James. After a few years in the metropolis, I decided to head to Quebec to work with Nicola Cortina at the prestigious Michelangelo.

In 2019, I met the Lessards, a family with a big heart, and it was "love at first sight" as we say. So here I am, since then, at the head of the Manoir du Lac William's kitchen.

I wish you all great night and "Bon appétit!"

Sébastien Gadeau

Executive chef in the Manoir du lac William's kitchen

P.S. I favor fresh, regional and most importantly homemade products. The time we put into preparing and creating dishes that we serve you is a token of quality. In order to have the best experience, at the height of which we want to offer, please allow a time of 2 hours at our table.

My team and I thank you for your comprehension.

This five-course dinner is included in your package. It is composed of the starter, soup of the day, sorbet, main course, dessert and a coffee, tea or infusion. Some supplements can apply. Each restaurant bill that includes supplements for the meals, drinks and wine will be increased by 15% for gratuity. Thank you for signing your bill before leaving the table.

The prices are in Canadian dollars ($).
